In her new collection of poems, My Of The Dead, award-winning poet Jane Hirshfield explores the complex and often contradictory emotions that accompany loss and grief.

The poems in this collection are both deeply personal and universally resonant. Hirshfield writes about the death of her mother, the loss of a beloved pet, and the gradual fading away of a close friend. But she also writes about the beauty and wonder of the natural world, the resilience of the human spirit, and the possibility of redemption.

The poems in My Of The Dead are a powerful reminder that even in the face of loss, there is still beauty to be found. Hirshfield's poems are a source of comfort and solace for anyone who has ever experienced the pain of loss.
